What is this product?

Type	Over-the-counter (OTC) derivative. An OTC derivative is a bilateral agreement between you and ABN AMRO, whereby commitments depend on the performance of an underlying asset (foreign exchange rate). An OTC derivative is not tradable on a regulated exchange.
Term	The maturity date (expiration date) of the product will be agreed upon when entering into the Participating Forward contract, with the intention of holding the Participating Forward until the maturity date.
Objectives	An FX Participating Forward ("Participating Forward") protects against an unfavourable rate movement for the full amount for which you sign the Participating Forward agreement. At the same time, you retain flexibility on the other part of the amount, to buy or sell currency at market rates if these move in your favour. Please note: the strike price of a Participating Forward is less favourable than the forward rate of a Forward transaction with the similar characteristics. The structure of a Participating Forward consists of two foreign exchange options with the same strike price: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Foreign exchange option that you buy from the Bank, for an agreed amount. You are protected for this amount against unfavourable price movements. 2. Foreign exchange option that you sell to the Bank, for the portion of the agreed amount that you are fixing at the strike price. You will remain flexible for the rest of the amount. The size of this part is determined by the strike price you select. 3. The expiration of both options are equal. The strike price and the flexible part of a Participating Forward are set in such a way that you neither pay nor receive any premium. The Participating Forward can be used for hedging or investment purposes. The amounts and other details in this document are used for indicative purposes. The calculations assume a nominal amount of EUR 10,000.00, EUR/GBP as the currency pair and a term of 6 months. These details probably differ from the ones in your agreement with ABN AMRO. The example is for illustrative purposes only.
Intended retail investor	This product is intended for retail investors who wish to hedge their foreign exchange rate risk or would like to use this product for investment purposes. This product is suitable for retail investors that have sufficient knowledge of and experience with this product, its performance and the risks associated with it. To make sure you understand the performance of and risks associated with this product, please consult the information provided in the relevant product information document. This product is intended for retail investors that are willing and able to bear losses greater than their investment, and accept the credit risk of the issuer and have a minimum investment horizon consistent with the maturity date of the product.

What are the risks and what could I get in return?

Risk Indicator

The risk indicator assumes you keep the product for 6 months. You may not be able to end your product easily or you may have to end at a price that significantly impacts on how much you get back.

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you. We have classified this product as 7 out of 7, which is the highest risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a very high level, and poor market conditions could impact the capacity of ABN AMRO to pay you. Be aware of currency risk. You will receive payments in a different currency, so the final return you will get will depend on the exchange rate between the two currencies. This risk is not considered in the indicator shown above. For legal reasons, no account is taken here of whether you actually need or will receive foreign currency. This product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could incur significant losses. If ABN AMRO is not able to pay you what is owed, you could incur significant losses.

Performance Scenarios

What you will get from this product depends on future market performance. Market developments in the future are uncertain and cannot be accurately predicted. The scenarios shown are illustrations based on results from the past and on certain assumptions. Markets could develop very differently in the future.

Recommended holding period: Example nominal amount(*):		6 months EUR 10,000 If you terminate after 6 months

	Average return	-0.77%
Favourable	What you might get back or pay after costs	EUR 406.00
	Average return	4.06%

The scenarios shown illustrate how your investment could perform. The scenarios presented are an estimate of future performance based on evidence from the past on how the value of this investment varies and are not an exact indicator. What you get will vary depending on how the market performs and how long you keep the investment/product. The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself, but may not include all the costs that you pay to your advisor or distributor. The figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back. The stress scenario shows what you might get back in extreme market circumstances. This product cannot be easily cashed in. If you terminate the product earlier than the recommended holding period, you will have to pay extra costs.

(*) The calculation is based on the notional of the contract (in this example EUR 10,000).

What happens if ABN AMRO is unable to pay out?

This product is not covered by any guarantee scheme. This means that in case the PRIIPs manufacturer is unable to pay out due to bankruptcy or an administrative measure of the competent authority, you could incur a significant loss.

What are the costs?

The person advising on or selling you this product may charge you other costs. If so, this person will provide you with information about these costs and how they affect your investment.

Costs over time

The tables show the amounts that are taken from your investment to cover different types of costs. These amounts depend on how much you invest, how long you hold the product. The amounts shown here are illustrations based on an example investment amount and different possible investment periods.

We have assumed:

- You would get back the amount that you invested (0 % annual return).
- EUR 10,000 is invested

	If product is held until recommended holding period
Total costs	EUR 100.00
Cost impact (*)	1.00%

(*) This illustrates the effect of costs over a holding period of less than one year. This percentage cannot be directly compared to the cost impact figures provided for other PRIIPs.

(*) This illustrates costs in relation to the notional value of the PRIIP.

One-off costs upon entry or exit		If you terminate after 6 months

How long should I hold it and can I take money out early?

The recommended holding period is the same as the term of the product.

If you know before the agreed date that you will not be using your Participating Forward, you can unwind the contract, ABN AMRO will settle the market value with you. Which means selling back the FX Option you bought from the Bank and buying back the Option you sold to the Bank. The Bank then calculates the market value of the two FX Options in the Participating Forward. There are two possible situations:

- The Participating Forward has a positive market value. You then receive an amount from the Bank.
- The Participating Forward has a negative market value. You then have to pay an amount to the Bank.

Unwinding your Participating Forward can lead to positive or negative result. This amount can be significant.

When you unwind the Participating Forward transaction as set out above, you will be entering into a new product and this may include costs (see the section "What are the costs?").
